

CONVERSATION

AT THE DOCTOR

DOC: Good Morning, please come in. How can I help you?

Pat: Good Morning, Doctor. I have not been feeling well. I seem to have a fever.

DOC: Okay, I will have a look at you. Here is the thermometer. Put this in your mouth, I want to check your temperature.

Pat: Okay, doctor.

DOC: The thermometer reading is 40 degrees, which is quite high.

Pat: Oh, is it? What can I do now Doctor? Should I be worried?

DOC: There is nothing to worry about. I'll give you a prescription. Take those medicines and you will be fine. I will also give you a medical certificate.

Pat: Thanks a lot, Doctor. You were of great help today.

DOC: No problem. If you are not feeling better in another 4 days, book an appointment with me again.

Pat: Okay, doctor. Thank you again.
